

FLEISCHHACKER

We want to help where we can!

We are incredibly happy that you made it safely to Germany. One of our core aims is to help you settle in as well as we can. Currently, we have three available, full-time positions in sales, IT and in logistics. Aside from that, we offer paid traineeships for sales representatives, in particular in wholesale and import and export, for specialists in storage logistics and, lastly, for IT specialists in system integration.

Job Requirements:

- Interested in working for an international company
- Basic knowledge of German or English
- Interested and willing to learn new things
- Approachable and friendly

Company Profile:

Fleischhacker GmbH & Co. KG, headquartered in Schwerte, is an international, medium sized company focusing on trade and software development in the medical and laboratory equipment industry. We employ 200 employees across 6 offices and supply help organizations, NGOs, hospitals, local practitioners and industrial companies. Our core value is derived from our employees who we train in house and continuously offer further training for. Since 2007 we have been selling our software Mediconnect®, which is a general hospital solution system, where hospitals and private practitioners can effectively manage all clinical process.

We offer:

We are offering detailed and extensive initial training into the diverse job position and equally offer extensive further training opportunities in a team-work oriented environment. Aside from this, we can provide language lessons in German via qualified teaching personal.
